Foreword

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

Since our first IBRA event in Vienna in December 2013, we were not only looking into Medical Evidence and current procedures in hand and distal radius, but also enhancing a close exchange with participants and faculty members.

By exploring the limits in current treatment principles of difficult scaphoid pathologies and distal radius fractures and by looking for new possible approaches to overcome possible attributed problems, new developments and treatment options will be presented and debated. As usual in our Vienna Seminar and Workshop we will also provide practical training and would feel most honored to welcome you to our course around the scaphoid and distal radius treatment.

Vienna stands not only for music and culture, history and beauty, monumental buildings and celebrities, but also for modern traumatology and hand surgery. We are proud that Vienna has been chosen once more to host this exciting IBRA Event.

We look forward to meeting you in our beautiful city.

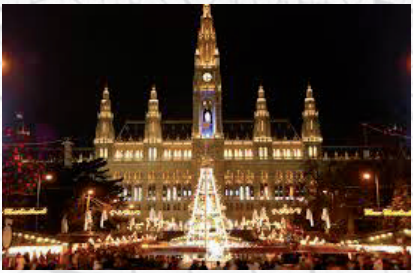
Travel Information



Vienna is a city where you can enjoy the past and the present. While half of the city floats majestically along in the 17th and 18th century, the other half zooms into the 21st, creating a fusion of time and space that will transport you from one age to the next.

First and foremost, Vienna is a city of the arts. After all, it seems that every classical music genius lived and worked in Vienna; Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Strauss, Brahms, and Haydn all came to Vienna at some point in their lives. Walk by an apartment building in the inner city and you will probably hear the practice of a violin coming from within. Or just walk down a major street and lose track counting theaters.

Famous thinkers like Sigmund Freud met to pore over controversial ideas, while artists like Hundertwasser, Klimt and Schiele painted so many countless masterpieces that can be gazed at in one of the many museums Vienna has to offer.

Transportation

A shuttle service between the Motel One Wien Staatsoper and the Lorenz Böhler Trauma Center will be provided. The shuttle will depart in the morning and return in the afternoon in conjunction with the meeting start and end times.
Group Dinner Event transportation will be provided from Motel One Wien Staatsoper. Transportation to and from the airport is the responsibility of the participant.
